What is SEMAP?

The Southeastern Massachusetts Agricultural Partnership (SEMAP) is dedicated to preserving and expanding access to local food and sustainable farming in southeastern Massachusetts through research and education. We truly believe that local agriculture is essential to the health and vitality of our community and economy. Sustaining farmers and farm businesses are at the core of our mission. We provide technical assistance to farmers, educate the community on the importance of agriculture, work to increase the functionality of our region's food system, and connect all people to local food.

We maintain a growing membership of farmers and businesses who use locally grown products; all are included in this guide. You can learn more about public or business membership, our events, or other ways to get involved at www.SEMAPonline.org or emailing Kendra at kmurray@semaponline.org.

Who's in the Local Food Guide & How Can I Get My Business Listed?

Our guide is a comprehensive listing of many local farms and food businesses. SEMAP Members are those that are highlighted. To ensure your business is listed become a member today.

GROWERS

BARNSTABLE COUNTY

BARNSTABLE

Borderbay Junction Farm

Greg Hamm

120 Buttonwood Ln, West Barnstable, MA

(617) 448-6666

www.borderbayjunctionfarm.com

Borderbay offers all natural, free range lamb. Their pastures are not treated with any chemicals, fertilizers, or herbicides. The lambs are antibiotic free and receive no vaccinations of any kind. All lambs are kept with their mothers, milk fed for ninety days, after which they graze on pasture bordering The Great Marsh across from Sandy Neck. The sea air deposits small amounts of sea salt on the pasture, giving the lamb a unique flavor. They also eat wild grape leaves, onion grass, and Russian olive. Lambs are also given a small amount of Vermont made grain to round out their diet.

WHY EAT LOCAL?

You care about your HEALTH

- Local food is fresher and tastes better than food shipped long distances from far states and other countries.
- Knowing where your food comes from and how it is grown or raised enables you to choose safe food from farmers you trust.
- Buying local food gets you outside and keeps you in touch with your neighbors, the seasons, and the harvest calendar.

You care about the ENVIRONMENT

- Local food travels less!
The average supermarket vegetable travels 1500+ miles from farm to table.
- Local farmers offer crop varieties grown for taste and freshness rather than shipping and long shelf life.
- Local farms help to establish and maintain healthy soils through sustainable farming practices such as crop rotation, diverse crop varieties, pasture raised livestock and integrated pest management (IPM).

You care about your COMMUNITY and local ECONOMY

With each local food purchase, you ensure that more of your money spent on food goes to the farmer and, in turn, the local economy.

BERKLEY

Chamberlain Farm

Bob & Jacqui Chamberlain

12 Friend Street, Berkley, MA

(508) 880-2817

HOW TO BUY LOCAL

In southeastern Massachusetts there are many ways to support our local farms year round by purchasing their vegetables, fruits, meats, dairy products, nursery items and other products.

The first step is to think seasonally, and look for local items grown and harvested month by month – check out the Harvest Calendar on page 32 to guide you.

An easy way to stay in touch with the seasons is to join a CSA program, short for Community Supported Agriculture. CSAs are farm subscription programs where community members purchase a “share” of the harvest at the start of the year, and receive a box of freshly picked produce each week. Some CSAs offer meat, cheese, baked goods and other extras, and some run into or through the winter, so check for a program that fits your schedule and taste preferences.

Another great way to stay in touch with the seasons is to regularly visit farmers’ markets. Farmers’ markets are plentiful in southeastern MA, and boast a wide variety of produce and products made locally. Farmers’ markets have become community meeting places, and are some of the best sources for fresh local foods; several even run through the winter months. See page 30 for a list.

Our region also has hundreds of roadside farm stands throughout the many back roads and coastal trails. Finding a local farm stand you enjoy close to home is sometimes the best and easiest way to enjoy local produce in season.

Search for farm stands, farmers’ markets and CSAs with SEMAP’s Online Farm Guide at www.SEMAPonline.org.

to this, the farm seeks to connect people to the food they eat, and in doing so create a general awareness of how the decisions we make regarding food impact more than ourselves. Lastly, Second Nature Farm strives to be a helpful resource for those beginning their own growing endeavors, so that more people may experience the rewards and satisfaction of nurturing and eating their own food.

SEEKONK

www.theicecreambarn.com

Tom and Jocelyn Seiter began churning up small batches of ice cream and selling it at farmers markets and festivals in the summer of 2008. Using fresh, local ingredients to produce their super-premium ice cream, they gained a substantial following for the unrivaled quality of their fresh, creamy ice cream. Meanwhile, Kenny Baker, the owner of Baker Farm, harbored a life-long dream of building an ice cream parlour on his farm. Kenny's farm has been in his family since 1880, and many generations have fought hard to keep it a working farm and from being sold off for housing lots. Since inheriting the farm as a kid, when his father died prematurely, Kenny always dreamed of milking cows, and turning their milk into fresh ice cream for people to enjoy on his beautiful farm. Brought together by a regular customer of Tom and Jocelyn's and a friend of Kenny Baker's, the two dreams began their path toward reality, and The Ice Cream Barn was born.

(508) 996-6724
www.capequalityseafood.com
Cape Quality Seafood Restaurant and market was established in late 1997 by two good friends, Mark Bergeron and Sonny Stanley. They changed the seafood business by opening their own restaurant and market, taking the fish unloaded at their dock and delivering it right to your plate. These two seamen combined their many years of experience to form a company dedicated to off-loading many of the best fishing boats in the port of New Bedford, Massachusetts, the largest fishing port on the East Coast. Their seafood market has some of the largest lobsters around, great local and wild fish, as well as a frozen selection. As you may know, there are a lot of seafood products coming from China and overseas. Cape Quality uses local products and support fishing in the USA..

Westport Rivers Vineyard and Winery

Rob Russell

417 Hixbridge Rd, Westport, MA

(508) 636-3423

www.westportrivers.com

Their farm is the home of the fourth generation of a family of winegrowers. In 1982 the Russells set themselves up on the sunny, South Coast of Massachusetts. Why? Because they knew, based upon a study of the climate and soils, that this was a wonderful location for growing the kind of wine they loved: gloriously aromatic, deliciously crisp wine. It just so happens that they were right. Their wines display all the world-class characteristics for which they sought. Their soils are dark, rich New England loam on well drained gravel. The climate is cool but moderated by the warm waters of the gulf stream (which bathes their shoreline all summer and fall). The rainfall, perfectly accommodating for farming grapes. Westport Rivers wines are 100% estate-grown (from their own grapes). They welcome you to visit them and enjoy a wonderful day in New England's wine country.

25 Scotland Blvd, Unit 1, Bridgewater, MA

(508) 807-5172

www.blackhatbrewworks.com

Their philosophy is simple, Black Hat Brew Works strives to create the highest quality and consistent beer, using as many local ingredients as possible. Paul, and his brother Scott have been brewing together for years, starting at a brew on premises, and eventually working into all grain batches on the back porch. About three years ago they made the decision to invest in a small brewing system that they would spend all their available free time working on, to develop recipes with the hopes of one day opening a small brewery. After countless hours and a lot of hard work, opportunity showed its face, and a decision had to be made to move this dream forward or simply remain home brewers. Since you are reading this, you can guess what that decision was! Paul and Scott, were then joined by their long time friend Jason, who rounded out the team, and so it began. A 2,200 sq. ft. brewery and tap room was created with the help from many friends and family and that dream is now a reality.

Kenny and Shelly Baker
261 Locust St, Swansea, MA
(508) 678-1633
www.theicecreambarn.com

Tom and Jocelyn Seiter began churning up small batches of ice cream and selling it at farmers markets and festivals in the summer of 2008. Using fresh, local ingredients to produce their super-premium ice cream, they gained a substantial following for the unrivaled quality of their fresh, creamy ice cream. Meanwhile, Kenny Baker, the owner of Baker Farm, harbored a life-long dream of building an ice cream parlour on his farm. Kenny's farm has been in his family since 1880, and many generations have fought hard to keep it a working farm and from being sold off for housing lots. Since inheriting the farm as a kid, when his father died prematurely, Kenny always dreamed of milking cows, and turning their milk into fresh ice cream for people to enjoy on his beautiful farm. Brought together by a regular customer of Tom and Jocelyn's and a friend of Kenny Baker's, the two dreams began their path toward reality, and The Ice Cream Barn was born.

Ben Bramhall

2 Sandwich Rd, Plymouth, MA

(508) 746-1844

www.bramhallscountrystore.com

Bramhall's is located in a quaint country setting next door to the Plimoth Plantation. Housed in a 1780 era saltbox style building, they feature Ben & Jerry's cones, frappes, fruit smoothies, homemade waffle cones, candy, cold drinks, hotdogs, lobster rolls and snacks. Bramhall's also offers fresh local fruit, flowers, and veggies in season.

The Market

6 Purchase St, Plymouth, MA

The name says it all: simple, direct, not too fancy — full of good things waiting to be discovered. In fact, The Market wants to make shopping an experience you actually enjoy. It begins with healthy, high-quality food: like locally grown, seasonal produce. Freshly baked artisan breads. A delectable deli. Certified Angus Beef and naturally raised chicken. And fish right off the boat. Fresh is best.

Chapman Dickerson
www.controlledenvironments.co
Offering consulting, design, and project management of controlled environmental agriculture. Consulting: CES will help you get started, and also stay with you to offer guidance and support on a weekly and monthly basis. Design: One of the most important aspects of creating a successful controlled environmental agriculture is the design. In order to maximize yield you must maximize space, time, energy and money, and to do that you'll need to build a solid foundation. CES helps build a very strong foundation that will not only allow you to sustain your project for years to come, but by utilizing current technology and planning for the future, your controlled environmental agriculture project will be ready to scale up to any future needs and specifications. Project Management: or the person who wants to own a controlled environmental agriculture project but may not have the time or the ambition to run it on their own, CES has the ability to provide everything you need. From designing and planning your space to handling labor, training, payroll, and everything else that goes into a project like this, they guarantee you'll be the proud owner of a world class controlled environmental agriculture operation.
